COAL DEADLOCK AGAIN; OUTLOOK 'DISCOURAGING'

Strike Is Imminent, Says Arbiter.

New York, Aug. 16.—[By the Associated Press.]—Hopes for prevention of a stoppage in anthracite coal production after Sept. 1 were near the vanishing point tonight.

The second day of the United States commission's attempts to aid settlement of labor disputes in the industry ended with miners' union officers completely disinterested in the suggestion of the operators' contingent to the union's proposition to abandon the "check-off" with the operators' agreement to avoid settlement except upon "even terms," and with John Hayes Hammond, the commission chairman, declaring that "frankly, the outlook is discouraging."

Works for at Least a Delay.

However, the commission itself, behind closed doors and with each party separately present, sought to secure new avenues for settlement and faced a complete block. Sweeping aside the "check-off" and all other obstacles of wage contracts and negotiations which have been in such a dispute, the commission asked each group to say just how far they would go to settle an arbitration agreement which would let the mines go on running after Sept. 1, while the disputes were left up to arbitration with the decision referred to Sept. 1.

John L. Lewis for the United Mine Workers, gave to the commission what was interpreted as a flat refusal of arbitration in any form.

Operators Appear Conciliatory.

The operators' policy committee, headed by S. D. Warriner, was prepared, however, to consider the dispute with any arbitration proposal. His assistants, Mr. Warriner said, would leave every point unsettled by arbitration in the hands of President Coolidge or any group of persons mutually satisfactory.

The operators said they also would agree to ask from arbitrators no reduction in the present wage scale in the mines; and thus leave the union assured of at least some gains.

May Give Up Effort Today.

All the commission's efforts were directed to finding some basis of compromise that would keep the mines running while negotiations are carried on. Faced with the blockade, the federal agency asked both sides to put their respective proposals in writing and to bring them back tomorrow for further conference. It was generally expected, however, that the commission would be obliged tomorrow to conclude its intervention, leave the operators and miners as it found them—far apart—and report findings back to President Coolidge.

While the commission seeks a means of escape from the impending suspension of mining, union leaders and operators' representatives devoted themselves to throwing light upon technical details of their deadlock.

Operators' Surrender 'Confusing.'

Yesterday Mr. Lewis proposed to abandon the mine workers' demand for the "check-off" system of collecting union dues provided the operators would cease "checking off" mine payee amounts due from their employers for supplies furnished.

Operators, agreeing to abandon their "check-off" practice, attached their names to the consent. Chiefly they sought an understanding that wage negotiations could be carried on over Sept. 1 without the union forcing a suspension of mining.

The Operators' Letter Is Confusing.

The operators' letter is confusing and misleading in every paragraph," Lewis said of the response in a statement to the commission. "The mine workers cannot accept it as an interpretation of their previous proposals. We made a fair proposal and presented therein a categorical reply. This reply has not been forthcoming."

Warriner Makes Reply.

Mr. Warriner later published a reply, saying the operators proposed to ask the commission to state definitely to the public the issues involved in this controversy.

The efforts of the operators to reach a peaceful adjustment by what Lewis to be an acceptance of miners' proposition of yesterday.

Prospects are bright for enormous tobacco crop and trouble over marketing is possible.

May wheat closed 1/4¢ higher with September 1/4¢; corn, oats, and rye advanced.

OUR PRESIDENTS AS CARTOON SUBJECTS

[Copyright: 1923: By The Chicago Tribune.]

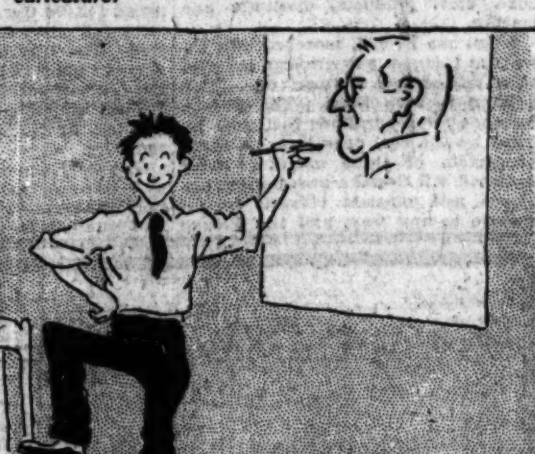

President McKinley, with his Napoleonic facade, was an easy subject for caricature.

President Roosevelt, with his glasses and distinctive teeth, had a face which lent itself gladly to caricature.

President Taft's genial obesity made him an easy subject for the cartoonist.

President Wilson had strongly distinctive features which were easily recognizable in a caricature.

President Harding's striking eyebrows and ruggedly strong features made him a good subject.

But the poor cartoonist is going to have his troubles with President Coolidge, for his features do not lend themselves so readily to caricature.

BOGUS PAINTINGS DELUGE CHICAGO, N. Y. DEALERS SAY

New York, Aug. 16.—Forgeries of paintings by several well known American artists are being distributed in the west and middle west, principally in Chicago, according to art dealers.

The signature of Childs Hassam has been put on several spurious canvases, it was said today.

Mr. Hassam, who confirmed this today, said that a dealer recently had called him in to pass on a picture bearing his signature that had been sent in from the west for an opinion as to its genuineness.

Mr. Hassam looked at the painting, picked up a penknife and cut off the signature.

Works by many other painters have been copied, according to the dealers. Clever painters who have no originality take several reproductions of an artist's works, cut out a part of each, piecing them together like a picture puzzle, and copy them with oils on canvas, they stated.

Albert Michx, a dealer, declared that the paintings of Ralph A. Blakelock, famous landscape artist, who died in 1915, had been duplicated by a faker supposed to come from Philadelphia.

ROSENWALD TO PAY $77,400 ON PERSONAL GOODS

Julius Rosenwald, president of Sears, Roebuck & Co., leads Chicagoans in the possession of personal property, according to the figures of the board of review. He filed a schedule valuing his personal possessions at $2,000,000. One-half of this figure is taxable at the rate of 15.48 per cent, making the tax he will pay, unless the figure is altered by the reviewers, $77,400. His home is at 4991 Ellis avenue.

Geddes May Not Return as Envoy to U.S.; Health Poor

[Chicago Tribune Foreign News Service.] LONDON, Aug. 16.—[Tribune Radio.]—It is reported here that Sir Auckland Geddes is not likely to return to America as ambassador. Since his return he has been in an institution near London taking a special treatment for his eyes, and his general health also is said to be poor.

5-5-3 TREATY IS IN EFFECT TODAY

Pacific and Disarmament Pacts Ratified.

(By a Staff Correspondent.)

Washington, Aug. 16.—[Special.]—The chief treaties of the Washington arms conferences will go into effect tomorrow, when final ratifications will be exchanged in the diplomatic room of the state department, it was announced today. This means that France, long regarded as the laggard in the ratifications, has at last approved and that the official documents are ready for exchange.

For many months the ratifications of all the other powers have remained with the embassies in Washington. It was simply a question of receiving the ratifications of France.

Junks Anglo-Jap Pact.

The announcement means that tomorrow the Anglo-Japanese alliance, long regarded as a menace to the safety of the United States, will go out of effect, and there will be installed therefore the four power Pacific treaty, which dissolved the British plan for cooperation between Japan and Britain in case of war, and provides that when difficulties arise they shall be submitted to a conference of representatives of the powers for solution.

The treaties to be confirmed provide for the limitation of armaments. Under the terms of this agreement the leading naval powers will limit their production of naval armament to the ratio of 5-5-3, with the United States and Great Britain maintaining an equal pace and Japan following in the ratio of three.

France and Italy, 1:35.

France and Italy will continue their naval armament at the ratio of 1:35 as compared with America, Great Britain, and Japan. At the time that the naval treaty becomes effective, the four power Pacific treaty also will be put into effect.

The ceremonies of the exchange of ratifications will be simple. In the LONDON, Aug. 16.—Maj. Count Esterhazy, who figured in the celebrated Dreyfus case in France in 1894, died three months ago in Harpenden, England, where he lived under the assumed name of Count de Voilemont, according to the Daily Express and the Daily Sketch. He was the author of the document on which Capt. Dreyfus was convicted of the charge of selling military information to Germany and publicly degraded. The papers say that Esterhazy died May 21 and was buried in a local churchyard under the name of Voilemont.

GOMPERS TELLS UNION TO DEFY U. S. INJUNCTION

Says Judge's Rule Invades Rights.

Denunciation of an injunction recently issued by Judge Carpenter of the federal court, restraining the ladies' garment workers' union from soliciting for union membership the employees of the Mitchell Brothers' company was voiced last night by Samuel Gompers, president of the American Federation of Labor, at a conference of Chicago union officials in the Morrison hotel.

The conference was called by the Chicago Federation of Labor and was attended by approximately 500 union representatives.

In his speech Mr. Gompers defied Judge Carpenter, and asserted that violation of any injunction was permissible when the constitutional rights of the workers were involved.

See Invasion of People's Rights.

"It's time for the American labor movement to put a stop to the invasion of the rights of the American people," asserted Mr. Gompers.

"I think the injunction issued by Judge Carpenter has infringed more on the workers' rights than any that has been issued, with the exception of the one existing in Pennsylvania, between union miners and individual mine owners."

"That one prohibits the nonunion miners from allowing any person in their homes, with the exception of the doctor, minister, or undertaker."

Mean Eviction.

"I haven't any doubt that if the workers employed by the Chicago clothing firm which applied for the injunction were sent talking to a union organizer they would be evicted from their homes. The injunction issued by Judge Carpenter prohibits union organizers from talking with employees of the firm or communicating with them by letter, telegram, or, in fact, coming in contact with them in any way."

"In a court of equity," he continued, "the court exercises its personal judgment. The issuance of injunctions is not in accordance with a governmental principle, but is a repetition of the exercising of the court's personal judgment. It is the revival of the king's idea of personal sovereignty."

Advice to Workers.

"I don't know whether there is a garment worker in this hall tonight, but if there is, and I have the opportunity, I shall advise him not to return to work until he has been organized. I shall give him that advice in spite of any injunction that has been issued."

"The whole world is a jail," declared Mr. Gompers, "if you cannot express your honest convictions."

"As smug as fact, the judiciary of the United States, both state and federal, has gone injunction mad, and it is time for American citizenship to make common cause to put a stop to these invasions of the rights of the common people."

TORRISON'S RULING

Members of a trade union may go singly to places of employment and put forth "peaceable arguments" to workers, asking them without intimidation or threats of violence to become affiliated with the union, it was decided yesterday by Judge Oscar M. Torrison in the Circuit court.

The decision was made in the application of the Francine Frock Co., the Mitchell Bros. Co. and eight other clothing manufacturers, for an injunction to restrain the officials of the International Ladies' Garment Workers' union from intimidating or interfering with their employees.

NAB POLICEMAN AS LEADER OF "BRIBE" SQUAD

Policeman Edward Cavanaugh, 2037 South Loomis street, attached to the New City station, was stripped of his star and locked up at the detective bureau last night after he had been identified by James Benesh, proprietor of the Princess hotel, 2859 Cottage Grove avenue, as the policeman who "shook him down" for $400 early in 1924 morning.

Cavanaugh is believed to be the head of a band of five men who have been touring the city for the last few months, posing as sergeants from the detective bureau and collecting thousands of dollars in tribute from saloonkeepers, bootleggers, pool room keepers and owners of vice and gambling resorts. Inspector Matthew Zimmer has summoned all of them to appear at the bureau today and view the prisoner.

Three Stars Fade Out in This Scenario

Three policemen were summarily dismissed by the civil service commission yesterday as the result of charges filed by Chief of Police Morgan Collins, based on facts contained in an anonymous scenario submitted to him several weeks ago.

The scenario, CHIEF MORGAN COLLINS, entitled, "Facts, or What Cash Will Do," was incorporated into the formal charges against the trio by Chief Collins. It follows:

REEL I.

Time: Night, May 24, 1923.

Place: Trentier hotel, Chicago.

Two young women and a man, all with police records, in room, with stolen clothing worth hundreds of dollars in their possession. Facts reported to Central detective bureau. Officers sent to investigate. Stolen clothing found. Three arrested.

REEL II.

Time: Next day.

Place: Unknown.

Relative of one young woman seen arresting officer. Result of interview: "If you produce $1,000 by tomorrow prisoners will not be booked on stolen property charge, and case so handled that nothing comes of it." (A report as above made to office of chief of police. Promise of investigation by officer on duty.)

REEL III.

Time: Tomorrow.

Place: Same.

The $1,000 produced and delivered—supplied by woman well known to police for years. Three prisoners booked "Disorderly" under assumed names, low bonds set. "lamster" bonds furnished, and part of clothing (stolen) returned to released "disorderlies."

SUBTITLE—Who kept the rest of it? (Answer deleted.)

(A report as above made to office of state's attorney.)

REEL IV.

Time: May 28, 1923. Place: Harrison street police court.

Case of defendants continued to June 12, accused not being present, absent on advice—not of counsel, but of arresting officer, who also instructs they are not to appear on June 12. Presumably bonds will then be forfeited and case closed.

REEL V.

Time: June 12, 1923.

Place: Same.

A "fadeaway" of officers leaving courtroom to continue law enforcement.

Those Who Were Discharged.

The three policemen discharged are Lester W. May of the Grand Crossing station, Harry A. Lesson of the Washington avenue station, and Michael J. Hurley of the Gresham station. The three in the hearing before the trial board were alleged to have arrested Grace Hartford, Helen Peck, and James Murphy when clothing stolen from a Michigan avenue shop was found in their possession.

No evidence that the policemen had accepted the $1,000 bribe was offered during the trial, although it was charged that they had not accounted for the recovered stolen property after illegally releasing their prisoners.

Discharged Twice Before.

Hurley, who entered the police department on April 1, 1911, has been discharged twice in the past, once for accepting presents and again for intoxication. On other occasions he has been suspended for failure to pay debt, intoxication, insubordination, and conduct unbecoming an officer.

Policeman May has been given creditable mention on two occasions and awarded $150 extra compensation annually for meritorious work.

Dresden Communists Plan Strike.

In Dresden the radical minister of economics, Dr. Fiesch, criticized Chancellor Stresemann and his coalition, saying: "One could not give either a long period of grace within which to make good."

This remark was made in the course of a demagogic speech before a meeting of the Dresden communist shops council, which body had voted to proclaim a general strike if the demands of the striking and locked out workers of the Striesen industrial area are not complied with by tomorrow.

They demand a basic hourly wage of 60 gold pfennigs [15 cents].

Under a threat of the bakers to strike an arbitration committee has awarded to Hamburg bakers a weekly wage of 20,000 pfennigs. Hamburg returned to normalcy today, the striking longshoremen going back to loading and discharging ships.

Suppress Labor Soviets.

[Chicago Tribune Foreign News Service.] BERLIN, Aug. 16.—The strong hand of Chancellor Stresemann's new government was shown today when national communist labor soviets were dissolved. The reason given was that they were helping secret communist forces. The soviets were responsible for the recent attempt at a general strike, which caused bloodshed throughout the country.

At the same time a blow was delivered at the monarchists, who have joined hands with the bolsheviks in attacking the new government. The monarchist organ Deutsche Zeitung was suppressed for three days for insulting Chancellor Stresemann. According to authorities the attack on Herr Stresemann by the monarchists has been of a

BRUNSWICK IN GRIP OF 70,000 SOVIET TOILERS

Threaten to Take Government.

BULLETIN.

BERLIN, Aug. 16.—The police have forbidden the Deutsche Allgemeine Zeitung to publish for three days, presumably because of attacks made on Chancellor Stresemann.

The minister of the interior has dissolved the Reich committee of workmen's councils in Berlin and also the committee of workmen's councils of Greater Berlin because of their influence in the formation and the activities of proletarian armed bands.

The Deutsche Allgemeine Zeitung is owned by Hugo Stinnes.

BULLETIN.

[Chicago Tribune Foreign News Service.] BERLIN, Aug. 16.—A rumor that Chancellor Gustava Stresemann had been assassinated was spread about the bourse in Berlin today in an effort by certain interests to drive the mark down again and to make profits on money speculation. Chancellor Stresemann has never been in more perfect health, but the rumor of his assassination is widespread in Germany tonight.

(Copyright: 1923: By New York Times.)

BERLIN, Aug. 16.—New communist outbreaks developed today in Brunswick when 70,000 workers in a mass-meeting threatened to seize the government unless their demands were complied with.

This little republic already had had one all Red government—in 1919.

The principal demands of the communists today were for an organization of thirty workers as a control commission for seizing and dividing foodstuffs, such commission to be invested with authority as agents of the state; 25,000,000 marks per capita to be paid immediately to the workers as "emergency economic aid," and a weekly wage of 30 gold marks (about $7.50) and withdrawal of security police forces from the countryside.

Reds Send Ultimatum.

The government partly acceded to the demand and agreed to give the control commission powers of "clerical assistants to the state's attorney."

On the gold wage and 25,000,000 marks special grant they said this must be left to negotiation between the labor unions and employers' associations. They declined to call off the police, as these were necessary to prevent plundering the crops.

The 70,000 demonstrators rejected the government's answer as unsatisfactory and sent an ultimatum to the minister president, who promised to summon a special cabinet council to deliberate on the demands.

SIEBOLD BACK; FRAUD CHARGES

Silent Save for Jostling
Iowa Constables.

(Picture on back page.)
Frederick W. Siebold Jr., the young millionaire and promoter who for weeks has been a fugitive in the middle west, was arrested in Chicago last evening.
The morning Siebold will face the grand jury in the state's attorney's office, and lawyers for local banking concerns interested in an alleged shortage of more than $100,000 in funds belonging to the Siebold Building corporation, of which Siebold was president.

Within a few minutes after Siebold was driven into Chicago under guard by two detectives State's Attorney Crawford directed that charges of kidnapment and confidence game be brought against him today.

Supplied with Funds.
Siebold was still in possession of more than $750 in travelers' checks when he was arrested. He still wore the same pleasing smile familiar to many persons in the loop and around the neighborhood of 634 street and College Grove avenue, where he had contemplated erecting a mammoth hotel.
Under the surface, however, it was evident Siebold was uneasy.

He refused to discuss any of his business affairs with either Mr. Crawford or newspaper men, other than to say that he was solvent and "everything would be ironed out in court." He smiled freely of his arrest in Davenport, Tuesday afternoon and broke into a healthy laugh when he related the antics of the hick coppers that arrested him.

Quite a Long Vacation.
"You certainly did extend your vacation into a long time," said Mr.
Crawford, referring to the statement made by Siebold, shortly before his capture, that he was going "up north on a fishing trip."
"Yes, and I did quite a bit of traveling after I left Chicago," was the reply.

The young builder then told of his travels. First he went to St. Paul, where he spent a few days, and then over to Helena, Mont., he said.
From there he returned to Chicago, residing two days in the Somerset hotel on the north side. Ten days ago he went to Moline, Ill., to see his wife, from whom he has been separated for several months.

"I went over to Davenport to see my fair," he told his attorney, William Stewart. "I was talking with man who had some pigeons on exhibition. I used to raise pigeons myself, you know. Then the pigeon fancier invited me to spend the night in his tent, while sleeping there Wednesday night. I was aroused by two deputy sheriffs, who told me that complaints had been made at the ticket office on grounds that I was wanted by the Chicago police. I was kicked in the back by one of the deputies and forced to go with him."

Wired Father for Bonds.
Siebold wired his father in Chicago after arrest and asked for bonds. The father turned the telegram over to Assistant State's Attorney Edgar A.
Mans, who sent Prosecutor Justin Mc-Carthy to bring the son to Chicago.
While Siebold was on his way here, Attorney Stewart applied for a writ of habeas corpus before Judge John R.
Avery. The writ was made returnable tomorrow. An agreement was made by Mr. Stewart, by State's Attorney Crawford, that he should be held in a hotel and allowed to obtain legal advice as soon as Siebold arrived. Mr. Stewart arrived to the home of Mr. Crawford, where he began making preparations for his client's release.

Charges will be placed against Siebold by Edward Sonnenschein and Carl Kupham, attorneys for complainants, it was said.

FIREMEN BRAVE FLAMES TO SAVE
FAMILY OF FIVE
Firemen of engine companies Nos.
1 and 50 battled yesterday through smoke and flames in a building at 454 Westworth avenue to rescue a family of five overcome in their rooms, when the fire which started in the first floor spread and cut off their flight.
Louis Hubert, his wife, and their three children, Lillian, 4; Ralph, 2½;
and Alice, 9 months old, were carried to safety by Capt. James Walsh and Fireman Louis Haffer of engine company No. 18 and Fireman Daniel Wille, Joseph Downing, and James Hil-son of engine company No. 50.

The entire family was unconscious when the firemen arrived. Origin of the flames, which did damage estimated at $5,000, was not determined.
Mrs. Mary E. Buckley declared that he would recommend the presentation of bravery medals to members of the rescue squad.

WEEK LAUNDRESS
FOR $7,000 THEFT
OF JEWELS, BONDS

have stolen a black handbag containing between $8,000 and $7,000 worth of jewelry, stocks and bonds from the residence of Robert Ward, 1001 Michigan avenue, Wilmette, where she was employed. The lost was the property was 30 years old. Reilly is employed on the Dallas News.

Birth Record Says April 25.
Shreveport, La., Aug. 16.—Mary Miles Minter, movie actress, was born here on April 25, 1902, and named Juliet Reilly, according to a birth certificate recorded in the office of the city board of health. Her parents' names on the document were J. H. Reilly and Pearl Miles Reilly.

Sister Says April 1, 1902.
Los Angeles, Cal., Aug. 16.—A statement purporting to have been made at Dallas, Tex., by Homer O'Reilly, father of Mary Miles Minter, movie star, that his daughter is 30 years of age, and not 21, as is generally believed, was contradicted at the home of Miss Margaret Shelby, sister of the actress, here. Miss Minter's birthplace and date of birth were given as Shreveport, La., April 1, 1902.

Miss Minter personally communicated with the Los Angeles Times tonight and said she would like to "announce to the world at large that any one who could prove she was 30 years old," as recently it was reported she was, "instead of 21, would earn her undying gratitude."

She said she wanted to be older than the 21 years she said her mother told her she was, as she will ask the court to order her mother to give an accounting of the money she earned as a film actress and turned over to Mrs. Shelby.
She said if her mother was correct
she could hope through law to obtain an accounting of the sums so earned only in the last three years, or since she became 18. But if she is 30, she could ask for an accounting of all she had earned in the last twelve years.

WAS STORM CENTER HERE.
Mary Miles Minter was a storm center in Chicago in 1911-12 when she appeared in "The Littlest Rebel" with William and Dustin Farnum, first for twelve weeks at the Chicago Opera house and then for three weeks at McVicker's. Lou M. Houseman recalls that she was then but 9 or 10 years old.
It was a period when the Hull House forces were fighting the appearance of children on the stage.
"The Littlest Rebel" was not bottered much during the run at the Chicago Opera house, but when the show was transferred to McVicker's there were daily arrests on orders of State Factory Inspector Edgar T. Davies.

It is recalled that Mary's management had the birth certificate of her sister—aged 15 years—for protection, but she was so small that it didn't protect her from Mr. Davies' efforts to keep her off the stage.

According to the records Mary was born on April 1, 1902, in Shreveport, La. In one of his petitions Mr. Davies asked the court to declare Mary a dependent and to appoint a suitable guardian to care for her.

After a hearing before a jury in Judge H. Sterling Pomeroy's court the jury returned a verdict that Mary was not dependent. The factory inspector filed another petition, declaring that Miss Minter was a delinquent and that her guardians were not fit nor able to correct her ways. This latter petition was "dismissed by the late Judge Pinckney."

Investigators at that time described Mary as possessing "fair hair, blue eyes, not pretty, but would make up well. She is nervous, transitive, and self-conscious." A birthmark, shaped like a star and colored red, that had appeared on her forehead, was removed by an operation.

SUBWAY TO LINK RAILROADS HIT BY CITY EXPERT

No Benefit to Straphan-ger, Maj. Kelker Says.

Mayor Dever's official family, in the absence of their leader refused to comment on the report that party chieftains had abandoned their program for municipal ownership and operation of the surface lines because bankers frowned upon the Schwarz certificate purchase plan. They agreed that the administration would work for the submission of a subway project to the people at an early date.

Corporation Counsel Francis X.
Busch declared that no official sign of disapproval of the certificate plan had been received from the bankers while Controller Martin J. O'Brien asserted that the legislature two years ago might be asked to place a constitutional amendment before the voters increasing the city's bonding power. This would make possible the purchase of the lines by the issuing of general corporate bonds payable out of money raised by general taxation. This plan was held impractical by the mayor in his traction message to the council.

Interest Turns on Subway.
City hall interest centered not in the shelving of the municipal ownership program but in a discussion of the various subway plans which have been resurrected for consideration by the mayor and his advisers when the latter return from his vacation.

Serious objections to the railway terminal-transit-subway scheme known to have found favor with some of the mayor's closest advisers, were voiced yesterday by Maj. R. F. Kel-ker, Jr., engineer expert for the council local transportation committee.

No advantage to the surface car
"strap-hanger" nor the elevated car
"standee" he asserted, he asserted, from a subway which, it is planned, will link together steam roads entering the Illinois Central, Northwestern, and La Salle street depots.

Details of Plan.
The scheme was originated several years ago by Elton J. Arnold, chairman of the board of supervising traction engineers and contemplates the following routes:

Route No. 1.—Connecting the Illinois
Central railway with the Evanston branch of the Chicago and Northwestern by subway continuing the Illinois Central north under the river and westward to the Northwestern. Through tunnels could be operated from Hyde Park, Pullman, Harvey and beyond through Clybourn Junction, Ravens-wood, Rogers Park and north shore tunnels.

Route No. 2.—Connecting the Rock Island lines with the Park Ridge branch of the C. & N. W. by subway from La Salle street depot north under La Salle street and the river and westward to the C. & N. W. This route would pass through Irving Park and other C. & N. W. points and south through Englewood to Blue Island and Lake Shore branch at Englewood to South Chicago and Gary, and a Chicago and Western Indiana branch through Roseland and Kensington.

Route No. 3.—Connecting the Illinois
Central with the Evanston line already connected at the Union station, the C. M. & St. P. lines through Glen View and Franklin Park and the Pennsylvania railroad to Hammond, with a branch at Twentieth street to the Chicago and Alton railroad and a branch at Englewood to the Wabash railway.

Another Proposed Connection.
Route No. 4.—Connecting the C. B.
& Q. railroad from La Grange, Riverside and Hawthorne with the Oak Park branch of the C. & N. W., by extending the C. B. & Q. tracks north through the Union station and westward to the C. & N. W. railroad.

HUGHES WIRE ON BERGDOLL BOGUS; CAN'T EXTRADITE

Forged Telegram Is Given Out in Error.

Washington, D. C., Aug. 16.—[Special.]—Secretary of State Hughes denied today that he had sent any telegram to the disabled American veterans promising, if possible, to obtain the immediate extradition of Grover Cleveland Bergdoll, millionaire draft slacker, who fled to Germany.

Mr. Hughes wired to the headquarters of the disabled veterans at Cincinnati asking it to explain its announcement of the receipt of a telegram purporting to be signed by Charles E. Hughes.

The state department, it was explained, will endeavor to see to it that Griffin receives a fair trial. At the same time, it was pointed out, the charges against Bergdoll is desertion and this is not an extraditable offense.

Not Given Out by Vets.
Cincinnati, O., Aug. 16.—Raymond Lassance, regional adjutant of the Disabled American Veterans, said he had received the telegram today from Secretary Hughes asking an explanation of its announcement regarding the report of a state department telegram concerning the cases of Grover Cleveland Bergdoll and C. Hoover Griffin.

Mr. Lassance said he had not received the previous telegram purporting to be from Secretary Hughes, and that the publication concerning it probably was due to confusion in the veterans' headquarters here.

Nixon Denton, editor of the Disabled American Veterans' Weekly, said today that the telegram made public was laid on his desk while he was absent from his office, and that when he returned he opened it and, believing it to be a bona fide message from the secretary of state, immediately telephoned its contents to the newspapers.

Try to Find Americans.
[Chicago Tribune Foreign News Service.]
FRANKFURT, Aug. 16.—America has started an investigation to find the full details of Lee "Calvin Hoover Griffin" whereabouts and clear the alleged attempt to kidnap Grover Cleveland Bergdoll.

Lieut. Griffin, with a Russian, Gregor Berberis, and an alleged American criminal intention. However, an official statement of the German department of justice stated, immediately has confessed that all five men meant to get Bergdoll to America.

From Karlsruhe it is indicated the Americans have been spirited out of the state of Baden.

Italy to Make Mussolini
Duke, Report in Rome

ROME, Aug. 16.—[United News.]— Benito Mussolini is to be created a duke, with the title of "Duke of Mussolini," according to reports in court circles.

The elevation of the fiery editor-premier to the Italian peerage will take place in October, it is said. King Victor Emmanuel will bestow the honor at the Quirinal on the anniversary of the "black shirt" march on Rome, which Mussolini led.

NEW MOTIVE FOR TRUANCY SCHOOL SUICIDE SOUGHT

Coroner Makes Tests in Young Wright's Cell.

Information regarding misconduct of an aggravated type, said to have existed in one cottage of the Parental school prior to the death of James Wright, was closed last night by Coroner Oscar Wolf as of magnified importance because of the tragedy. On the result of the new investigation,
Mr. Wolf said, may depend the verdict as to the manner in which Wright came to his death.

The coroner, Assistant State's Attorney George E. Gorman and Aid.
Thomas J. Bowler (41st) went to the Parental school yesterday to make two tests. Later they did some investigating, being told among other things:

1 That Mrs. Archibald R. Davis, wife of Wright's instructor, who was discharged yesterday, might be able to help the investigation with information concerning the conduct of young Wright.

2 That two women had witnessed the examination of the throats of thirty-seven boys by a physician who used the same tongue depressor on each, while stating that several had infected throats.

Smith Still Present.
The three officials, on entering the Parental school office, found Fred E.
Smith, suspended superintendent, still present. They were told that Mrs.
Tillie R. Pratt, matron, was acting superintendent, and that Rufus M.
Hitch, a district school superintendent, was in charge. They sought him out.

Coroner Wolf introduced himself and the others, and stated they desired access to the steel solitary cage where Wright had been confined at the time of his death.

Make Tests in Cell.
The tests then were made. Coroner Wolf stood on the bed in the cell, took a bed sheet and tied one corner to the top of the wire cage. Then he fastened a noose about his neck and stepped off. The coroner gripped the sheet tightly, holding his weight. Mr.
Gorman was there to catch him, if necessary.

"This is the way that Wright could have hanged himself," the coroner then announced. "But he could not have tied the knots in the noose, as Instructor Davis testified he found when he took down the body."

All officials concerned are to be at the hearing today before Chief Justice Michael L. McKinley, which is upon the petition of Attorney Eugene L. Mc-Carthy. Twelve boys are to be brought from the Parental school to testify.
Mr. Gorman said, and he will assist in the investigation. He is also to bring Davis and Mrs. Davis to the state's attorney's office for questioning, he stated.

HERRIN OFFICER MAY BE SMALL'S RUNNING MATE

Anti-Len Confab Shows
No Loss of Strength.

BY FRANK BUTZOW.

Gov. Len Small's candidacy for a second term on the Lunt-Thompson platform adopted by the state pay roll convention at Kankakee on Wednesday tended to clarify Republican political matters yesterday.

"Everybody is glad to see Small's platform," said one of the allied leaders. "We hope he continues to stand up to it. Our lines are more intact than ever now. The make up of the Kankakee convention has demonstrated that the reported defections have little foundation."

Political developments of the day included:

1. A conference of leaders of the anti-Small allies.

2. Authoritative information that Gov. Small wants Col. Samuel N. Hunter of Herrin notoriety as a running mate for lieutenant governor.

3. Information that former Gov. Frank O. Lowden has reserved the floor of the Congress hotel during the Republican national convention next June.

4. Evidence of considerable growth in sentiment behind both John G. Oglesby, former lieutenant governor, and John H. Harrison as candidates for governor on the Republican anti-Small ticket.

No Discussion of Candidate.

The conference of anti-Small leaders developed only general discussion with special reference to campaign organization in Cook county.

No effort was made towards an agreement on any one of the list of candidates who want to run against Gov. Small next April, and no attempt to dictate the elimination of any of these candidates was offered.

Attending the conference were United States Senator Medill McCormick, Attorney General Edward J. Brundage, State's Attorney Robert E. Crowe, Charles V. Barrett, George E. Harding, Sheriff Peter M. Hoffman, Homer K. Galpin, Morris Miller, and Lawrence King. It was the first opportunity these leaders have had to get together since their vacations.

No Death of Men.

Definite action towards selection of a candidate against Gov. Small probably will be postponed another month or more. Further conferences including downstate Republican leaders and Senator William B. McKinley are scheduled for late September.

Yesterday's confab entirely dissipated attempts by pro-Small interests to make it appear the anti-Small leaders were floundering in their search on a gubernatorial candidate. They are looking for a standard-bearer, but with deliberate consideration of all elements entering into that selection.

The question of a coalition in the November election was taken up but left in the same indefinite status in which the proposition has rested for weeks.

Governor Small regards southern Illinois as his stronghold in the 1934 campaign. Coal miners make up a large percentage of the vote in that section of the state. The absence of troops at Herrin a year ago last June has boosted the work in the coal fields. John H. Walker, president of the Illinois Federation of Labor and a power in the miner's organization, delivered himself to Small at Kankakee Wednesday.

Hunter Starts Campaign.

Col. Hunter has announced himself as a candidate for lieutenant governor. He is campaigning actively in southern Illinois and was among those present at the payroll convention at Kankakee.

Former Gov. Lowden's reservation of the "A" floor at the Congress hotel in 1930 and the rooms occupied by Senator Hiram B. (Rep., Cal.) and Gen. Leonard Wood in that convention. Mr. Lowden's preparations are taken as definite assurance that he intends to be a factor in the 1934 campaign. It was rumored also that negotiations were made for reservations for Secretary of Commerce Herbert Hoover's possible presidential headquarters.

SAYS FORD URGED U. S. TO 'CLEAN UP' IN NEW BIG WAR

"Biographer" Quotes 1922 Alleged Remark.

New York, Aug. 16. — The assertion that there would be another world war and "the United States should get into it at the beginning and clean them all up," was made by Henry Ford in September, 1922, according to a statement in a biography of the manufacturer written by Allan L. Benson, once a Socialist candidate for President, publication of which was announced today.

Mr. Benson says the statement was made at a time when the diplomatic situation between Great Britain and Turkey was at its most acute stage and rumors of war were heard on all sides.

"Believing that if war should come," says Mr. Benson in his book, "propaganda would at once be unleashed to draw the United States into it. I stopped at Dearborn to interview Ford. I thought he would sound a warning against American participation in European affairs. To my surprise, he did precisely the opposite."

Restraint Publication.

Mr. Benson says he did not publish the interview at that time because "I did not wish his Wall Street friends to have another club to hammer him with. He was not then a political factor and it seemed best not to provide his industrial enemies with another weapon. Since then Ford has become a political factor and the people are entitled to know everything he thinks about public affairs."

"Ford's views on war and peace have changed radically since the beginning of the world war," writes Mr. Benson. "He told me in 1916 that he would not be in favor of resisting even invasion by armed force. He took the extreme pacifist position."

After America entered the war he perhaps contributed more to its prosecution than any other civilian. He now believes that we shall be most likely to have peace if we have the strongest navy in the world."

T. R. Guesard Ford Candidacy.

Mr. Benson points out that Theodore Roosevelt once predicted that Ford would be a candidate for President in 1924. It was not until 1923, however, he continues, when "Ford for President" clubs began to spring up, that the public paid any serious attention to the possibility.

As an indication of how Ford felt toward the idea of being President, Mr. Benson describes an incident which he says occurred in January, 1922, after a luncheon attended by the full staff of executives of the Ford Motor company.

"Ford and I walked behind the others as we returned to his office," Mr. Benson says. "As a result of nothing in particular, Ford suddenly pointed to one of his men and said: 'There is the kind of a man I would appoint secretary of the navy.'"

Ford Long Willing.

"After that it did not seem to be necessary to pay much attention to Ford's remarks about his lack of interest in the greatest office in the world. Men who are not thinking of the presidency do not consider what men they would appoint to the cabinet. Moreover, men in high position in Ford's service have long urged him as a presidential candidate. Ford could have stopped them. He let them talk."

Mr. Benson's biography also touches on Ford's campaign against the Jews and his sudden cessation.

After the campaigns had been under way for some time Mr. Benson says Ford suddenly told him he would stop printing the articles, giving as his reason that "there is too much anti-Semitic feeling."

"I can feel it around here," the manufacturer is quoted as saying. "If we were to keep this up something might happen to the Jews. I do not want any harm to come to them."

The biography, which is published by Funk & Wagnalls company, says Ford declared, on the occasion of his discussion America's entry into the war, "that all that is the matter with this world is injustice. Establish justice and everything will be all right."

Asked what should be done to remove injustice, Mr. Benson says Ford told him the salaries of Supreme court justices should be increased, but did not recommend a change in the appointing power that makes the judges.

EXHIBITS JAM PARK AS AURORA FAIR IS OPENED

Aurora, Ill., Aug. 16. — The American fair season opens today, when the Central States fair opens its gates for a nine day run at Exposition park, two miles north of Aurora.

All of the buildings and almost every inch of space in the park's 140 acres is taken up by displays of live stock and manufactured products, works of art, and displays of women's and children's handiwork. In the cattle show alone there are over 1,700 blooded animals. In the baby show entries number almost 600.

As part of the government's extraordinary drive to help the farmer, a huge exhibit having to do with profits that can be won from the soil through live stock is shown by the United States department of agriculture. The exhibit takes up almost 5,000 square feet of space.

In the horse show there are over 300 entries, with exhibitors and drivers and riders of national prominence in the lists. Among them are Miss Virginia Clarke Withen of Jeffersonville, Ind.; Mrs. Medill McCormick, William Dee, Benjamin Stein, F. N. Leopold, Mrs. A. C. Thompson, Mrs. Glenn Dymore, Dr. Walter Venn, Mrs. J. M. Harris, Mrs. Stuyvesant Peabody, and Mrs. R. G. Young.

LANDIS ASSAILS BROOKHART, REDS IN IOWA SPEECH

Tells Legion to Beware
"Bobtail Politician."

Mason City, Iowa, Aug. 16. — [By the Associated Press.] — Keneaw Mountain Landis, commissioner of organized baseball and former federal judge, in a characteristic speech before 5,000 Iowans today told them and Senator Smith W. Brookhart in blunt terms what he thought of a suggestion recently advanced by the Senator that America recognize the soviet government of Russia; attacked the city council of Minneapolis for what he declared was an action "bordering on treason," and severely scored organizations advocating "law, not war" and disarmament.

The baseball commissioner spoke before the Iowa state convention of the American Legion.

Plays Russian Soviet.

Former Judge Landis had spoken but a few moments when he reached the subject of Russia, and the possibility of America recognizing the soviet government. The audience, which included Senator Brookhart, had anticipated it and knew what to expect.

"We are asked to extend the hand of hospitality to a government that has for its doctrine radical revolution," he said.

"Would you recognize a man who extends his right hand and keeps his left hand on an automatic in his hip pocket ready to shoot you in the back the minute you turn it to him?"

Plays Minneapolis Council.

"I hope to God that the Iowa people realize that they have the best government in the best land in the world, and that this malicious propaganda comes to naught."

He wondered, he said, whether the Russian government was not obtaining money for carrying on its propaganda from the funds sent over by America for relief of her starving.

Attacking Socialism, Judge Landis

declared that party voted by 55 per cent "to obstruct the government in the prosecution of the war."

"One of the party who followed its dictates was convicted of violating wartime laws and sentenced to Leavenworth," he continued. "When he was released recently the city council of Minneapolis voted to honor him. By so voting the council assumed an attitude that bordered on treason."

[The Minneapolis council on Thursday voted 18 to 8 to revoke the previously accorded reception.]

Hits "Bobtail" Politician.

"But there is another class of people in this country that you Legion men must look out for, and that is the bob-tailed politician who, because he wanted German votes, hid in his hole, did not do a thing to help the government and did everything possible to hinder the progress of the war."

"There are a lot in America who have gone a bit crazy on 'law, not war' propaganda. Do you know that we have in this country the greatest share of the world's wealth, and that there are nations that would strangle us if it were possible to obtain this wealth? Such preaching makes those who do not want war feel like going to war."

U. S. STIRRED, BUT FAILS TO REFUTE GEDDES' REPORT

Ellis Island Charges Get Rebuttal in Capital.

(By a Staff Correspondent.)
Washington, D. C., Aug. 16.—[Special.]—Considerable surprise was manifested in high official circles today at the action of the British government in making public the report of Sir Auckland Geddes, ambassador to the United States, concerning alleged conditions at Ellis island.

Strongest suspicion was expressed that the whole matter of the publication of the Geddes report to Lord Curzon was due to the fact that the British government is disturbed at this time because of the tendency on the part of the citizens to emigrate to the United States.

It is well known that world war veterans in England have for months been in destitute circumstances, and that despite the efforts of the government to encourage migration to Canada and to Australia that many of the most desirable class of British subjects have indicated an intention of going to America.

There is no tendency among officials to dispute the accuracy of the observations of Sir Auckland Geddes.

Department of labor officials, however, were quick to point out that in making public this report the British government has failed to recognize the fact that America is not called upon, under existing international practice, to maintain Ellis island at all.

Mr. Tod admitted that improvements at the island were possible, but apparently did not agree with Geddes' criticism of overcrowding and insanitary conditions he said he found there.

The chief obstacle to improvements on the island is the lack of appropriations, Mr. Tod said. Last year Congress appropriated only $100,000 for improvements and maintenance there, and this year the appropriation had only that amount for all the immigration stations in the country.

Curran Answers Geddes.
Mr. Curran declared that while a few of the remedial suggestions offered by Sir Auckland were sound, the majority were nothing more than implications which were not based on facts.

POISON CHARGE HALTS FUNERAL FOR POLICEMAN

The funeral of Henry J. Dureen, 3129 Henderson street, who for the last three years was a member of the police department, was interrupted yesterday when his half brother, Barney La Garie, 2044 Wabash street, charged that his brother had been poisoned.

Mourners had gathered about the bier and the funeral cortege was about to proceed to the cemetery when Deputy Coroner W. Dunn HENRY J. DUREEN, a physician from the coroner's office appeared. The casket was opened and the mourners were told to step from the room. The vital organs were removed to be analyzed.

The news that Dureen was said to have been poisoned spread quickly throughout the neighborhood. Several hundred people gathered about the small frame building that Dureen had recently purchased.

Deputy Dunn set the date for the inquest for Sept. 14. Dureen was Mrs. Dureen's second husband. She has a son, Edward, 15 years old. Her first husband died ten years ago. She married Dureen three years ago. Dureen died supposedly of ptomaine poisoning.

According to Mr. Husband, this cost constitutes virtually an American subsidy of foreign shipping.

Tod Says It's Unjustified.
New York, Aug. 16.—[Special.]—Although refusing to comment directly on the charges made by Sir Auckland Geddes, former Commissioner of Immigration Robert Tod intimated today that he considered the attacks unjustified.

Mr. Tod admitted that improvements at the island were possible, but apparently did not agree with Geddes' criticism of overcrowding and insanitary conditions he said he found there.

The chief obstacle to improvements on the island is the lack of appropriations, Mr. Tod said. Last year Congress appropriated only $100,000 for improvements and maintenance there, and this year the appropriation had only that amount for all the immigration stations in the country.

Curran Answers Geddes.
Mr. Curran declared that while a few of the remedial suggestions offered by Sir Auckland were sound, the majority were nothing more than implications which were not based on facts.

When they arrived, "Whenever any one wants something to kick against, they usually pick Ellis island," Mr. Curran said. "Recently I came across a guard at a station who seemed so gloomy that I asked him what was the trouble. 'It's just this, commissioner,' he replied, 'the immigrants step on my toes, kick my shins and spit in my face. All I can say to them is thank you.'"

FORMER AID OF CZAR IS DETAINED AT ELLIS ISLAND

New York, Aug. 16.—Gen. Alexandre Lokomsky, once chief of staff of the Russian army and military aid to Czar Nicholas, today was detained with his family aboard the steamship President Wilson on his arrival from Naples, because the Russian immigration quota for August was exhausted.

Robert E. Tod, former commissioner of immigration at Ellis island, who returned on the ship with the Lokomskys, appealed in vain to Washington and his successor, Maj. Henry Curran. He was informed that the general and his family would have to go to the island for a hearing before a board of inquiry.

With the general were his wife, son, two daughters, nephew, and two brothers-in-law, aristocrats of old Russia, friends of the Lokomskys when the royalists were in power, who had come to the pier to meet them, expressed disappointment when they were not permitted to land.

TROWEL IS FOUND MIGHTIER THAN PULPIT, PAY DAYS

The plastering trade is plundering the professions. A plasterer's wage of $104 a week is the lure. Ministers are abandoning their pulpits to take up the trowel. Until a few days ago the Rev. Frank Cummings of Kenosha was one of the workmen employed on the New Orrington hotel in Evanston. George Sellick of Portland, Ore., a graduate of Washington university, a civil engineer and the holder of several degrees, recently turned down the offer of a professorship to join the plastering gang at the hotel.

"I learned the trade at high school and worked my way through college," Sellick said. "When I was graduated in 1917 I found the trade paid better than my profession as an engineer. Members of my graduating class are working for $200 a month while my pay runs between $400 and $500."

TWO MEN DIE AS TOLL OF SPEED MOUNTS TO 410

Intoxicated Drivers Sent to the Bridewell.

Two men died yesterday as victims of automobile accidents, bringing the total number of deaths caused by motor cars in Cook county since Jan. 1 to 410.

Two men were sentenced to the House of Correction when they were found guilty of driving while intoxicated.

Frank Taylor, 45 years old, 6122 Greenwood avenue, died of injuries sustained on Wednesday night when he was struck by an automobile driven by Leonard Leterman, 7315 Oglesby avenue. The driver is being held by the police pending the inquest.

Walking behind a street car, an unidentified man about 35 years old was struck by an automobile driven by Arthur F. Wrede, 2114 North Keeler avenue, who is being held by the police. The man was instantly killed.

Sent to the Bridewell.

Edmund Lisch, 2702 South Troy street, was sentenced to ten days in the bridewell and fined $50 and costs by Judge Glatzer, who found him guilty of driving while intoxicated. Another intoxicated driver, Peter Myslop, 2150 Cullerton street, was sent up for thirty days and fined $50 and costs by Judge Walker. Two college chums, meeting after ten years' absence, joined in a hearty celebration, which ended in the Speed court before Judge Walker. H. H. Hardy, formerly of Springfield, Ill., now a resident of Shanghai, China, was charged with driving while intoxicated. The other, Victor Cullen, a broker, who lives in Wilmette, was accused of disorderly conduct.

Sentence is suspended. Hardy, who was driving Cullen's automobile, was sentenced to sixty days in the bridewell and fined $200 and costs. Judge Walker suspended his sentence, placed Hardy on probation, and ordered him to abstain from use of liquor for one year. Though he will be permitted to return to China, he was ordered to write one letter a month to the court. Should he violate his parole, he must return to serve his sentence. Judge Walker said Cullen was fined $50 and costs. Singing songs of their native Austria, Christ Drasso and his wife sped home from an Austrian picnic in Pilgrim park. An Irish motorcycle policeman, William O'Neil, listened and gave chase. Yesterday Judge Glatzer fined Drasso $36 and costs on a charge of driving thirty-six miles an hour.

Lawyer Gets Stiff Fine. Attorney Samuel Rosen of Rochester, N. Y., was fined $50 and costs for driving thirty-seven miles an hour on Washington boulevard.

Manslaughter charges pending against Joseph Kelly, 4844 La Grange avenue, a wealthy realtor, were continued by Judge McKinley yesterday during the coroner's inquest into the death of C. C. Hudson, Harvey, Ill., who was killed when struck in an automobile driven by Kelly.

PERMIT GRANTED FOR $3,000,000 HOTEL ON LAKE

Way for the erection of a proposed $3,000,000 hotel on the lake shore between Albion and North Shore avenues was cleared last night when the north shore park commissioners granted permission to Henry Minkus to build a breakwater off the site to prevent the land from being washed away. The site recently was purchased from the Catholic archbishop for $135,000 by Mr. Minkus and his associates. Residents protested against a permit, asking the board to take over the land through condemnation proceedings and turn it into a park. The commissioners replied that no funds were available for this purpose and granted the permit when Mr. Minkus waived riparian rights.

MICHIGAN AVENUE SIGNAL TOWERS READY BY SEPT. 1

Whether Chicago's unprecedented
Michigan boulevard traffic can be regulated by a system of electric signal towers and lamps
instead of by policemen is a story which will begin to be told on Sept.
1, possibly sooner.

The towers and lamps from 22d street to Randolph street are expected to be completed by Monday, and it is probable the electric system also will be ready for a preliminary test by that time.

Experts who have studied traffic all over the world say frankly that they do not know whether such traffic regulation will work in Chicago. Michigan avenue, they say, has unprecedented traffic in that it has no analogy anywhere—there is nothing on which to base judgment of the new system's possibilities.

John Heritz, head of the Yellow Cab company and the Chicago Motor Coach company, etc., however, has faith in the new system. $40,000 worth of faith, for he has laid out all the money for the installation of an agreement that if the south park commissioners in two years do not believe in it and do not want it, he will remove it again at some more expense to himself.

The system so far consists of three main towers and twenty-one lamp posts. The towers are at 16th street, Roosevelt road and Jackson boulevard; the lamps at these three streets also and at every one of the other intersecting or abutting streets.

Both towers and posts will have three disc lights, one red, one green, and one amber in color. The red will be the "stop" signal, the amber the warning that a change impends, and the green to "go ahead."

WOMAN SLEEPS;
WAKENS TO FIND
HER BABY BORN

Denver, Colo., Aug. 16.—[Special.]—Awakened from a sound sleep Wednesday afternoon, Mrs. August Hill discovered she had given birth to an eight-pound baby girl.

The case is one of the few on record where childbirth has taken place entirely unknown to the mother. Physicians here declared Mrs. Hill told physicians that she had no pain and was unaware of the birth of her baby until she awoke. She called to neighbors in the same house and told them she was ready to go to the hospital. Arriving, the ambulance crew realized it was too late to remove the mother to the hospital and sent Dr. I. K. Krohn, who went to the Hill home and administered necessary medical attention.

COOLIDGE TO ACT AS WATCHDOG OF U. S. TREASURY

Washington, D. C., Aug. 16.—[Special.]—President Coolidge is going to be his own "watchdog of the treasury." He has made it plain to officials and congressional leaders with whom he has conferred that stern old-fashioned Yankee economy is to be the foremost precept of the administration.

He expects to give his closest personal attention to government expenditures and to budget recommendations, so that when they are submitted to congress there will be little or no ground for criticism on the score of extravagance.

Mr. Coolidge had another conference today with Senator Smoot (Rep., Utah), who will be the next chairman of the finance committee, and with Representative Madden (Rep., Ill.), chairman of the house appropriations committee, which will soon begin drafting the annual supply bill. Both of these men are celebrated in congress for their dexterity in wielding the pruning knife on departmental estimates.

Madden to Stay in Capital.

At the request of the President, Mr. Madden will remain in Washington.

ton almost continuously until the opening of congress, to be on hand for further conferences in the interest of further economy.

The President already has approved the action of Gen. Lord, budget director, in cutting $124,000,000 from the departmental estimates, but still further reductions are in sight. Senator Smoot declared that it would be possible to cut $200,000,000 from the running expenses of the government and keep expenditures well within $5,000,000,000. He predicted that the Republicans in congress would back the President to the limit in practicing the most rigid economy.

The elimination of "dead wood" and duplication of work in the departments will be one of the principal means of effecting further reductions without reducing the efficiency of the government, he said.

Submits Ship Board Plans.
Edward P. Farley, chairman of the shipping board, today submitted to President Coolidge a statement covering the present situation confronted by the board and outlining its plans to meet the situation.

The President, it is understood, while evincing interest in the board's problems, did not express any opinion because he had not studied the papers left with him by Chairman Farley. Whether or not the President will approve in detail the board's plan for operation of the government fleet is not known. There is a disposition in some quarters to believe that he probably will approach the problem with an inclination to avoid "direct government operation," and to continue the present form of operation in a modified form.

It is believed the board is still working on the project of the former Chairman Lasker that subsidiary companies be formed in the various shipping districts.

TODAY the September number of The American Magazine announces more than 2,000,000 circulation.

Six months ago the announcement was more than 1,900,000. A year ago, more than 1,800,000. For eight years the steady growth has continued—an average of 100,000 new buyers every six months.

"What are the limits to the growth of this magazine?" people ask; just as they have been asking for years: "What are the limits to the market for automobiles?"

THE two questions, and their answers, are essentially one.

The great craving of all living creatures is for larger life. The automobile answers that craving. It destroys distance; it shatters the fetters of locality; it opens the door of a broader neighborhood.

The American Magazine answers the same craving. It carries us into the company of people who are living and doing effectively. It supplements our enthusiasm. It ministers to our self-confidence. We lay it down with the fine assurance that we can do more and be more than ever in the past.

If the automobile companies were merely selling cars, if The American Magazine were merely selling literature, it would be fairly easy to measure their possible market.

But who can measure the demand for larger living?

Who knows the limit to the craving for life?

WOMAN OUTWITS "BRAINS" OF RUM RING; 84 HELD

Washington, Aug. 16.—(United Press.)—A woman, seated at her desk in Washington, has brought to justice what is called the biggest bootlegging ring in the United States, after 3 years of relentless effort.

She is Mrs. Mabel Willebrandt, assistant attorney general in charge of prohibition prosecutions. The ring was shattered by 84 arrests made in Savannah yesterday.

The operations of the group under arrest were said today at the department of justice to be the most highly organized and far reaching of any known.

Some Shipped to Chicago.

Fleets of vessels were operated between the Bahamas and the Georgia coast, convoys were provided to distribute liquor inland, while booze known to have passed through the hands of the ring has been traced as far as Chicago, St. Louis and Cleveland, where it was being sold.

A special intelligence service, maintained by the ring to protect its operations, hampered Mrs. Willebrandt's pursuit by causing her on two occasions to substitute new operatives.

Two years ago the attention of Mrs. Willebrandt, a woman of great personal charm, was drawn to the activities of the ring.

But by the case was built up under her guidance, and yesterday she felt the moment had come to strike. Agents armed with warrants swooped down on the principals and their associates and arrested them.

84 Arrested; Many Sought.

Savannah, Ga., Aug. 16.—(United Press.)—Eighty-four residents of Savannah, including leaders in business and professional life, were under arrest today in the roundup of an alleged gigantic ring of prohibition law violators. Many others indicted by a federal grand jury were being sought in connection with liquor deals.

Among those arrested was William Haas, a former grocery clerk, who is said to be worth millions. He recently was indicted for failure to make tax return on an income estimated at $1,000,000.

Chinese Boycott to Force Japs Out of Manchuria May Involve U. S. in Row

This is the sixth of a series of articles by Mr. Powell on conditions in China today.

BY J. B. POWELL.

(Copyright, 1923, by The Chicago Tribune.)

PEKING, July 22.—(By Mail.)—The Washington conference forced Japan to settle the Shantung question, but it did nothing to force a settlement of the Manchuria question. As a result of this being left unsettled, the Chinese people are again up in arms against Japan, and for several months a nationwide boycott of Japanese merchandise by all classes of Chinese has been in progress. During May of this year there were riots in the city of Changsha, the capital of Hunan province in central China, and the Japanese landed marines to protect their nationals. The Japanese were forced to fire and three Chinese students were killed and several injured.

This has served to aggravate the situation, and as these lines are being written, the boycott has spread to such proportions that Japanese trade in China is being seriously damaged. The Japanese chambers of commerce in China held a general conference in Shanghai the first week in July of this year and demanded "that the Japanese government take firm and drastic action toward this agitation which is decided by an act of violence and outrage."

Origin of Boycott.

The general boycott in China against Japanese goods had its beginning when the news reached China that the Paris peace conference had confirmed Japan in possession of the former German interests in Shantung province. There were public burnings of Japanese goods in practically every Chinese city and town, and even the Chinese town section of San Francisco. The boycott was actively prosecuted during 1919-1920, and although it died down somewhat in its spectacular aspects in 1921, after the settlement of the Shantung question at the Washington conference the opposition to Japanese goods in China has continued up to the present, especially in such turbulent areas as Szechuan and Kwangtung provinces.

Early this year Japan refused to discuss with China a settlement and abrogation of the "Twenty-One Demands" of 1915, the boycott was given a new start and from present prospects it is to be continued in spite of the fact that Japan has relinquished all of the "demands" with the exception of those pertaining to the extension of the Port Arthur and Liaoting peninsula leases, and railway extensions in Manchuria.

U. S. May Be Involved.

Since the Manchurian question is likely to continue as a bone of contention in the Far East between China and Japan, with Soviet Russia looking on as an interested third party, it is important that Americans should understand the essential factors involved. We can't escape being dragged into the row owing to our established policy of the open door in China and more especially our more recent adherence to the so-called nine power treaty adopted at the Washington conference whereby the contracting powers, including Japan, agreed to:

1. Respect the sovereignty, the independence, the territorial and administrative integrity of China;

2. Provide the fullest and most unembarrassed opportunity to China to develop and maintain for herself an effective and stable government;

3. Use their influence for the purpose of effectively establishing and maintaining the principle of equal opportunity for the commerce and industry of all nations throughout the territory of China;

4. Refrain from taking advantage of conditions in China in order to seek special rights or privileges which would abridge the rights of subjects or citizens of friendly states and from countenancing action inimical to the security of such states.

Outlet to Seas.

The Chinese province of Manchuria embraces a territory of about 585,700 square miles, or about the same as the total area of the states of Illinois, Missouri, Iowa, Indiana, Minnesota, and Wisconsin. The Chinese population is about 13,000,000.

The Manchurian question in its present form is traceable directly to imperial Russia's efforts to reach an outlet to the major seas. Blocked from the Mediterranean sea and from exit through the Baltic, Russian strategists of the past turned to the Pacific and sought a road to the open sea through Siberia. This led to the conception of the Siberian railway and of Vladivostok as a seaport. The direct route of the railway lay across Manchuria, which belonged to China; a condition which required the Russian government to negotiate a treaty with China for a railway right of way there. Such a treaty secretly was negotiated in 1895 and came into effect in the following year.

Extend Railway Lines.

This agreement gave the Chinese Eastern Railway company the right to maintain order along a strip of territory adjacent to the railway line, to build stations and other buildings required for the operation of the railway. The next step was the lease in 1896 to Russia by China of the Liaoting peninsula of southern Manchuria, extending into the Gulf of Chihli, where Russia later built the cities of Port Arthur and Dalgai. Then later came another agreement for the extension of the Chinese Eastern railway from a point in Manchuria (Harbin) to Port Arthur and Dalgai.

Japan was made uncomfortable by these moves of Imperial Russia, so, to make the story short, the Russo-Japanese war resulted, and the treaty of peace was signed at Portsmouth, Me. By this treaty the "nose" of the Liaoting peninsula, including the fortified harbor of Port Arthur and Dalgai, were transferred to Japan. In addition the southern section of the Chinese Eastern railway, running from Changchun, Manchuria, to Port Arthur, was transferred by Russia to Japan.

Spring Twenty-One Demands.

By the original agreement the Russian rights in the Liaoting peninsula were to revert to China in 1923 or the present year, and China was to have the right to purchase the railway in 1928. But in the meantime the European war intervened and Japan, seeing Europe occupied with affairs at home and the United States ineffective, suddenly in 1915 presented China with the so-called "twenty-one demands," accompanied by an ultimatum. The twenty-one demands, among other things, extended the Liaoting lease for a period of ninety-nine years, and also the lease of the South Manchuria railway for a similar period.

An attempt was made on several occasions during the Washington conference to bring up the Manchuria question for settlement similar to the method used in settling the Shantung question, but action was always blocked by Japan, which considers this a "vital and vital" interest.

A TYPICAL motor car REPAIR BILL $138.00

—this type of expense can now be entirely eliminated in this way—

MOTOR car owners can find a safe, sure guide in the following incident for keeping down repair bills.

The case is typical. The motor car referred to sells for around $2,000.00. It was a new car when delivered, equipped with oil cups. The owner ran it 7,800 miles and then had to send it to the factory to be overhauled. Here is the letter he received:

Dear Sir: May 1, 1923
"The car owned by Dr. _____ has been received here at the factory. We have noted the contents of your letter very carefully, the matter has been handled by our shop superintendent, and he reports as follows:—In the chassis, the shackles are loose and worn, the universal joint sloppy, wheels loose, and chassis as a whole rattles badly."
"He puts an estimate of $60.00 as necessary material to condition the chassis. There will also be approximately 50 hours' labor on the chassis. In addition to labor charges there will be a 5% tax levied on material."
"Of course, there may be some difference in the final bill—but we assure you we are not trying to make money on service work here at the factory, but are merely trying to deliver the very best service possible, and we always hold these jobs down to a minimum."
Yours very truly,

Charging labor at the ordinary garage rate of $1.50 per hour, this bill amounts to $138.00.

This type of repair bill should be entirely unnecessary now. Fleet owners, who keep careful records, have proved this.

Take 15 minutes every 500 miles to lubricate your car with the Alemite High Pressure Lubricating System, and you will cut your repair bills in half. The Yellow Cab Co. of Chicago cut their operating cost 1 1/2% per mile by putting in a system of regular lubricating and inspection. (Total saving of about $1,000,000 per year.)

Every Yellow Cab is equipped with Alemite, and an inspector checks over every fitting every day. If a single one is missing it must be reported and replaced promptly as a flat tire.

With Alemite every moving part of your chassis (including every part mentioned in letter at left) is equipped with a fitting as shown below. You attach the hose with a simple twist. One turn of the compressor handle and lubricant is forced into the heart of every chassis bearing. Old grease and grit are forced out.

You cannot minimize the importance of this. Just apply Yellow Cab savings (1 1/2% per mile) to your mileage. It will save you from $70.00 to $180.00 per year. Just as it would have saved the $138.00 repair bill above.

On Your Car?

Most good cars come equipped with Alemite. The manufacturer has put it on to save you just such repair bills—and it will if you use it.

Lubricate your car thoroughly every 500 miles and note the difference—not alone in repairs—but also in riding and in elimination of squeaks. You can lubricate your entire car, in a few minutes with Alemite and you know it is done thoroughly.

Check up to see that no fittings are missing. If in doubt—ask your dealer to give you a diagram showing exactly where every fitting is placed on your car.

If Alemite is not on your car your dealer can install the entire system complete while you wait—$5.00 to $20.00, according to make and model of car.

Under the average running conditions, Alemite will save its cost five times over in a year.

Alemite Lubricating Spring Covers

Now—Springs that Stay Springs, Protecting Car and Tires from Ruinous Road Shocks

WHEN you get your car from the manufacturer, your springs are perfectly lubricated. But maintaining that state of lubrication has been the impossibility. Running your car day after day, it is not long before the first set of spring lubricant is pushed out between the leaves, and dust and rust take its place. Rust-frozen, the spring leaves do not flex. Do not take up the road shocks and jolts. The result is that your tires have to stand the brunt of the jar. Riding comfort is impaired, and tire mileage greatly reduced. That's why your second set of tires never wear as long as your first set.

Alemite Lubricating Spring Covers solve this problem of spring lubrication. These spring covers—all metal and non-rusting—neatly encase your springs in a bed of lubricant. The covers keep the lubricant in, and the dirt and water out. Spring leaves are uniformly and continuously lubricated. Spring action is lubricated action. No stiffness, no squeaks. Your car rides as it should—easy on occupants, easy on tires.

There is a set of Alemite Lubricating Spring Covers for every make and model of car. Ask about a set for your car at any Alemite service station. See what they mean for easy riding and long life of your tires.

OIL OR GREASE

The Alemite High Pressure Lubricating System can be used with either oil or grease. But for best results we recommend Alemite Lubricant—a pure solidified oil especially adapted for our system—has all the virtues of oil, but is sufficiently solid to "stay put."

WINNIE WINKLE, THE BREADWINNER: Who Says They Never Come Back?

Christian Sioux "Gather at the River" for Convocation

White Horse, S. D., Aug. 16.—(By the Associated Press.)—From all parts of North Dakota, and as far away as Nebraska, members of the Sioux nation, representing more than 5,000 communicants of the Protestant Episcopal church, have trekked across the plains, and are encamped tonight in a great circle on the banks of the Moreau river. The meeting is the Niobrara convocation, Niobrara meaning running water in the Indian tongue.

The camp has always been held on the banks of some stream to afford water for the horses, but the horse drawn prairie schooner is fast disappearing and the primitive conveyance made of tepee poles has vanished. These Christian Sioux have traveled for the most part in automobiles, with here and there a spring wagon.

The convocation will begin tomorrow morning with a celebration of the holy communion in the Dakota tongue. Special significance is being given to this convocation, as it marks the fiftieth anniversary of work among the Sioux by the Rev. Dr. Edward Ashley, who has served them as missionary and friend since before the days of the Custer massacre.

Chief Gault, who was the leader at the Big Horn affair, ranking Sitting Bull, was later converted to Christianity by Dr. Ashley. Pitting honors will be tendered to this pioneer missionary by the Indians in a service to be held next Sunday.

The regular observation of the sun with the aid of the spectrograph in conjunction with the forty inch refracting telescope, the largest in the world, has been the principal item in the program of the observatory for twenty-five years, and more than 10,000 photographs of the sun have been obtained.

State Has No Redress in Text Book Discrimination

Publishers of school books who are charging prices which, in some cases, are 25 per cent higher in Illinois than in other states cannot be prosecuted for discrimination by Francis G. ## This Is the Day for Sally's Big Party at Riverview Park

BY SALLY JOY BROWN. Today's the day we've been waiting for. I'll announce them next Sunday. And Mr. Dodge, general manager of the park, said everything's ready to give us all a splendid time—so won't it be a glorious party?

And here are some of the winning movie titles. Maybe yours is among them or in case you didn't win, maybe they will give you a hint for next time. "Dear Sally Joy Brown: I think that Doug Fairbanks in 'The Three Musketeers' was the most thrilling movie I have ever seen. I had read the book and I thought that Doug Fairbanks acted the part of D'Artagnan just like the book. I liked the fights, Aramis, Aramis and D'Artagnan had with the soldiers."

"I always enjoy a thrilling movie especially if Doug Fairbanks or Harold Lloyd is in it. When I saw the posters of Harold Lloyd in 'Safety Last!' right away I said I would love to see it, because I knew Harold Lloyd would make it a real thriller. I hope I can go with you—Ernest B."

"Dear Miss Brown: I sure would like to see Harold in his latest picture, for he is so funny. I think the most thrilling movie I ever saw was 'The Silent City' in which Strongheart, the big wolf-like German police dog was the principal actor. In the last part of the picture a bandit told Betty, Flash's mistress, a tree. Flash was the dog's movie name. 'Flash' was about a mile away when he heard Betty scream, then he ran like the wind to Betty, and bit the cords she was bound with, with his teeth. Then he dashed after the bandit. The bandit when he saw Flash, jumped into the river, then Flash jumped in too, and overtook the man, dragged him back to shore, then he took the man back to Betty's cabin and there he guarded him till Betty came home. You have disappointed me twice, Sally, so I hope I will be one of the lucky 100 this time—Jack C."

"Dear Sally Joy Brown: The best movie thriller I ever saw was Lon Chaney in 'The Shock'. It showed Chinese crooks and the big pirates and long narrow, darkened streets, oh and then that terrible 'shock'. It was a real thriller. It scared everybody to death. And there were some big fights—M. L."

"Mrs. Brown, I have a twin sister and she is writing too. It is our birthday next Monday and we can't wait to see your happy winners with us among them. It will be our biggest treat—M. L."

WHAT'S WRONG HERE?

A FRIEND IN NEED

Needs Chair Badly. "I am in great need of a wheel chair, as it is quite probable I will never again be able to be about like others. Do you think someone might be willing to express a chair to me? I would pay the charges if sent collect, or if more desirable I would forward the amount to the donor. My case requires that the chair I use recline and that it be of adult size. If you meet with success in this issue, it will be my wish that you put me in touch with the person so generous, so as to enable me to try to express my gratitude for his or her liberal endeavor. I also appreciate your kindness toward me."

"R. H. B." If you have a chair to give to this worthy man, it wouldn't be too much for you to send it to him. Write to him, would it, just to the same room around it and phone an expressman to call for it? This man has been waiting a long while for an invalid's chair and I hope he won't have to wait any longer. How much joy it would bring him.

Request for Crutches. "I was recently the victim of an accident, sustaining a fracture of the right leg. To enable me to resume my daily toil, I need two crutches, 5 feet in height. The thought I have in mind is that probably some person has a pair of idle crutches (of the size specified) and would let me have the use of them for a few weeks. I will gladly return."

F. A. P." There may be another person who at times met with a similar misfortune and who has, therefore, crutches to pass along to you.

Flowered Gray Chiffon Worn Over Gray

NEW YORK.—(Special Correspondence.)—Doesn't look much like selecting her new fur coat today, does it, as she stands, hailing her sailor warping up to the pier, as dressed up in her perfectly new and equally delightful gray chiffon, flowered with rose, over a silver gray slip.

It's evident she's going to the opening of the picture gallery instead, and favoring rather more mature femininity. They say the brief coat has had its day, a day almost a year long. They look for something different. The 50 and 52 inch lengths dominate many August fur showings for afternoon and formal dress use.

Unique belts and buckles are much on view, for example, chinchilla squirrel trimming short gray caracul coats. Chocolate brown is much shown among colors in sport furs.

BANK'S SURVEY SHOWS FARMERS IN GOOD POSITION

BY O. A. MATHER.

The trend of the country's business continues along the line of orderly expansion. The agricultural situation, taken as a whole, is good and such vicissitudes as it shows will not disturb the general progress. These conclusions are set forth in the current review of the Continental and Commercial banks of Chicago, supported by surveys of the major industries and data received from several thousand correspondent banks throughout the country.

The farmer, his crops and the marketing of them are not going to interfere with the orderly development of the business cycle or interrupt the continuity of business activity, the review states. The farmer did not create the expansion of business and while it is unfortunate that he has not participated as fully as others, his position is better and improving.

But, however the farmer may fare, he is not going to put an end to a condition he did not create. The continuation of business activity is not dependent on agriculture to any unusual degree. Agriculture will work enough out to contribute something to the continuation. There is nothing in the crop situation to threaten the continuation of the other business barometers. The review states that the business cycle is still in the expansion stage.

The great question is not so much whether crops are large or small but the method of marketing them. The prices they will bring. The quantity of the various crops is satisfactory. Certainly there is much to indicate that business is going to share in the general increase in prosperity. The review states that the business cycle is still in the expansion stage.

Exports Exceed Imports. After a lapse of several months, the United States last month resumed its role of selling more to other countries than it bought. Our July foreign trade showed a favorable balance of $25,000,000, the total of exports being $10,000,000 against imports of $25,000,000, according to figures issued by the department of commerce yesterday.

July was the first month to produce a balance of trade in favor of this country since last February. This resulted in the balance running against the United States to the extent of $115,996,323 for the seven months ended July. In that period total exports were $23,559,696 and total imports were $23,775,092. For the corresponding period in 1922 we had a favorable balance of $459,589,963. In July, last year, exports totaled $29,197,835 and imports $28,721,841.

Reserve Bank Situation. For the second consecutive week the weekly report of the Federal Reserve system shows no change in reserve position, the ratio of reserves to liabilities remaining at 77.3 per cent. The consolidated statement of the twelve banks shows loans declined $1,000,000; bills bought, $1,200,000; total assets, $25,800,000; and earning assets, $25,800,000. Gold and total reserves advanced $2,000,000 and $4,000,000 respectively.

The New York Times

New York, Aug. 16.—Markets of all sorts continued to exhibit quiet calm today. Stocks advanced sharply during the first part of the day, were shaken by a moderate profit-taking movement in the afternoon, but still closed the day measurably higher than the previous day. France rallied sharply and there was a moderate recovery in the external issues of both France and Belgium.

Taken as a whole, it may be said that the markets for the last two or three days have exhibited cheerfulness and confidence, and while the upswing has not been particularly wide or joint, it has been a welcome change from the very appearance of firmness.

Foreign Bank Statements

Today's foreign bank statements exhibited but few important changes. A decrease of approximately 1,000,000 in the circulation was reported by the Bank of England, while the reserve ratio moved up to 14.35 per cent from 13.94 per cent.

WHEAT TOPS $1.10; LIGHT DROP IN SEPTEMBER

BY CHARLES MICHAELS.

Deferred deliveries of wheat sold at a new high on the present upturn with May getting above \$1.10 for the first time, and closed  $\frac{1}{4}$  higher for the day despite a rather heavy undertone in September which was off  $\frac{1}{4}$  at the last at \$1.00  $\frac{1}{4}$ , or 1c under the early high. December was at over the nearby delivery at \$1.00  $\frac{1}{4}$  with cash buyers buying September and selling December in a manner, while the selling of September was largely by the buyers of the previous day.

September corn got above 77c after having been checked at that figure for several days and closed at 77c, a net gain of  $\frac{1}{4}$  cent, while deferred futures were up  $\frac{1}{4}$  cent. Oats showed more activity and gained  $\frac{1}{4}$  cent, with September leading, and 77c was up  $\frac{1}{4}$  cent.

No Pressure on Wheat. Selling of wheat was largely in the way of profit taking, and while many of the local traders continue bearish they are not inclined to press the selling side freely, especially on the breaks. Reports that will be made at that time for the time being and indications that the demand would fall off in the southwest had some effect on the September. Wet weather has again checked threshing in parts of the central west and the movement shows a heavy decrease as compared with last year. In four days primary ports have received 9,422,000 bushels, against 12,770,000 last week and 9,178,000 last year. Shipments of 4,300,000 bushels were about half of those in 1922.

Export demand at the seaboard remains limited, although Winnipeg claimed foreign orders for wheat and cable bids for old wheat that for some time. Outside markets generally showed more strength than Chicago, with Kansas City 1914c, Minneapolis, 1914c, and Winnipeg, 1914c higher at the last. The government report of the previous day suggesting a decrease of 15.5 per cent in the winter wheat acreage contributed to the advance in futures, and the trade are also paying more attention to the lake market situation, as the requirements for first half of August shipment have been withdrawn from the Canadian carrying trade.

September Corn Shows Uneasy. Local shorts in September corn who had figured on a break in cash premiums after harvesters had filed their requirements for first half of August shipment became uneasy when cash lots failed to decline and in covering carried the price up to 77c, the highest price in a month. There was considerable grain for sale on the advance but it was readily absorbed. Deferred deliveries were bought on less favorable crop reports from Iowa, a local observer claiming that road appearances were deceptive in the northwestern part of that state. Cash premiums were firm at 111 1/4c over the future. Country offerings in the aggregate were not large. A car of No. 2 yellow on team track sold at 89c, within 1/4c of the best figure on the day.

More Interest in Oats. Commission house interest in oats is enlarging and September acted a little light, gaining 1/4c on the December. It is said that cash houses are long the September against sales of the deferred deliveries and want the cash grain for storage purposes. Wet weather is delaying threshing, and some interior shippers who have sales for August shipment to the south and east are having a hard time getting the grain to all their contracts. Trade in rye was the best in a month with a good cash of commission house buying. PH observers said there were indications of a larger interest on account of the low price, which encourages investment purchases. Foreign political situation is regarded as better and had some effect.

Provisions were dull but firmer, with lard unchanged to the higher and ribs up 1/4c for the day. Smaller packers sold some lard. Strength in hogs had some effect. Prices follow:

FRANCE TO REPARATION
U. S. CUTS D

Gives Up a Pa
Ruined Area C

BY HENRY WALKER
[Chicago Tribune Foreign News
Copyright: 1923, by The Chicago Tribune]
PARIS, Aug. 17.—What are the French people's views on the new French government's offer to make Premier Poincaré's sudden espousal of modern negotiations and abandonment of style secret diplomacy in his Lord Curzon's note which will be to London within a day or two the hostile, embittered British note, the French president decided to maintain a friendly and place his cards face up, stating exactly France's position.

The French reply, which, submitted to the Belgian government, offers to reduce France's demand for reparations from a minimum of 135,000,000 marks ($23,100,000,000), which Poincaré abruptly writes off to a maximum of 42,640,000 marks ($7,000,000,000), according to the amount Great Britain and the United States diminish their claims for war debts.

These sums are all including the "C bonds" against Germany which generally have been worthless.

Hope to Force U. S. Action
The note marks the first time officially has offered to share reparations rights under the 1919 treaty and the reparations of May 5, 1921. It is expected that the British secretary of state will announce she intends to insist on paying her and to force the United States to make an official statement whether the United States is to make France pay every dollar owed during the war.

Indirectly, the new French abandons the claim for the reconstruction of the devastated zone, as it insists only on 22 per cent of the 50,000,000 marks ($8,300,000,000) in A bonds—26,000,000,000 gold marks ($4,300,000,000)—which represents what France already has advanced for regions for the war ravaged regions for the sum, Premier Poincaré told parliament, totals 100,000,000,000 francs, which at the rate of exchange since the war equals about 26,000,000,000 gold marks.

But the reconstruction is completed, so renouncing claims on Germany for the regions means that France has assumed the obligation of payment.

Leaves Out Small Allies
The other allies interested in the reparations plan for Germany are calmly left flat by the proposal unless they succeed in forcing the British to reduce the 22 per cent. This is expected by Jugoslavia, Roumania, and other little countries who are clinging to this in the struggle against Great Britain. France against Great Britain, the allies in the present support Premier Poincaré in the greatest possible sum.

Briefly, the French note Lord Curzon's plan for Germany pay 50,000,000,000 gold marks in B bonds. Of the 50,000,000 marks, France will obtain 26,000,000,000 gold marks, Great Britain 10,000,000,000 gold marks, Belgium 10,000,000,000 gold marks and a pro rata share of the balance nothing for the little allies and South American states with war on Germany and fled on shipping sunk and other damage.

What France Offers
Regarding the balance of 24,000,000,000 gold marks in B bonds, France renounces all claims of 22 per cent, or 42,640,000,000 marks, except what she owes Great Britain and the United States. France owes Great Britain 10,000,000,000 gold marks ($1,660,000,000) and the United States 10,000,000,000 gold marks ($1,660,000,000). This leaves a minimum of 4,000,000,000 gold marks in the claim on Germany of 26,000,000,000 gold marks.

This may be increased to 42,640,000,000 gold marks if Germany and London cancel the entire, or less if they write them.

Strong protests from the smaller nations are expected if it is taken up. Germany's total claims on the Allies are 135,000,000,000 marks ($22,350,000,000). The balance of 131,000,000,000 marks ($21,690,000,000) is the balance of 131,000,000,000 marks ($21,690,000,000) which will be paid by Rome and the Allies. (Continued on page 2.)
